

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE PAID TO THE FIRST AMERICAN HEROES.

With the American Army in France Nov. 7.—The first three American soldiers killed in the trenches in France to night are sleeping in French soil, honored by the American army and the people and army of France. Their final interments took place yesterday.

With a guard of French infantrymen in their picturesque uniforms of red and horizon blue standing on one side and a detachment of American soldiers on the other, the flag wrapped caskets were lowered into the grave as a huge blow taps and the batteries at the front fired minute guns. As the minute guns went off the French officer commanding the division in this section paid tribute to the fallen Americans. His words, which were punctuated by the roar of the guns and whistle of shells, touched both the French and Americans. In the conclusion the French officer said:

"Men! These graves, the first to be dug in our national soil and only a short distance from the enemy are a mark of the mighty land we and our allies firmly cling to in the common task, confirming the will of the people and the army of the United States to fight with us to a finish, ready to sacrifice as long as is necessary until final victory for the most noble of causes, that of liberty of nations, the weak as well as the mighty. Thus the death of these humble soldiers appear to us with extraordinary grandeur."

"We will therefore see that the mortal remains of these young men be left here, left with us forever. We inscribe on the tombs 'Here Lie the First Soldiers of the Republic of the United States to Fall on the Soil of France for Liberty and Justice.' The passersby will stop and uncover his head. Travelers and men of heart will go out of their way to come here to pay their respective tributes."

"Private Enright! Private Gresham! Private Hay! In the name of France, I thank you. God receive your souls Farewell!"

This Man Can Really Boast.

To be permitted to live eighty-three years and still enjoy health, be able to see and hear and to have eight living children, who are a credit to you, is something that few men can boast of as can Mr. J. D. Meador.

Mr. Meador was eighty-three years old Nov. 8, and his daughter, Mrs. Henry Pate with whom he lives at the Cloverport Hotel, celebrated the day by having a sumptuous turkey dinner. The other seven children are: Mrs. Chas. Mattingly, Mrs. Dhonaue and Mrs. Oscar Pate, Messrs. Walter Meador, Ruthie Meador, Dan Meador and Roscoe Meador.

Miss Piggott Given a Distinction at K. S. U.

Miss Eliza M. Piggott, of Irvington, was elected assistant editor of the Kentucky annual publication of the University of Kentucky, at a meeting of the junior class. She will be editor-in-chief of the year book next year. This is the first time in the history of the university that a girl has been chosen to this office. Miss Piggott has been active in literary work during her career at this institution, having been a member of the staff of the Kentucky Kernel, weekly student publication of the university last year, and managing editor of the paper this year.—Lexington Herald

Returns To His First Love.

Mr. M. B. Kinchee, who only a few weeks ago resigned his position as assistant cashier of the Bank of Hardinsburg & Trust Co., and accepted a place with the First State Bank, Boulder, Colo., returned home last week and resumed his former position with the Bank.

Mr. Kinchee found that there isn't many places as good as old Breckinridge, his first love. Mrs. Kinchee came on from the West Mr. Kinchee.

Picture of Camp Zachary Taylor

A splendid picture taken of the Flag Raising, Nov. 3, at Camp Zachary Taylor is on display in the Breckinridge News office window.

The picture gives a good conception of how the training camp looks showing the barracks, the Y. M. C. A. buildings and the soldiers with their visitors. It is very interesting and has attracted a great deal of attention.

SEVENTY-TWO FAMILIES REPORTING

Each Week the Number of Meatless, Wheatless and Wasteless Meals, Amount of Food Saved is Increasing.

The first report of the number of families in Cloverport who are actually complying with the Food Conservation plan was made public Monday morning at the end of the third week.

The number of families who are reporting altogether is seventy-two. Thirty-six of these are of the Methodist church and the other half are of the Baptist church which represents only about half the number of families in each church.

Just for an example, and to give an idea of how much is being saved by thirty-six families, is shown in the report given by Rev. W. L. Baker of the Methodist church:

Av. per family 1st wk. 2d wk. 3d wk. meals
Wheatless meals 3 17 25 6 14 12, 7 1/2, 7
Meatless meals 10 17 25, 12 7 8 14 2 9, 14
Wasteless meals 11 16 25, 21, 21, 21
If all of the seventy-two families had saved 21 wheatless, 42 meatless and 61 wasteless meals in the three weeks time, the amount of food saved would have been something like this: 1,512 wheatless meals, 3,024 meatless meals and 4,536 wasteless meals.

This weekly reporting of amount of food saved is one of the unique phases of Mr. Hoover's Food Conservation Campaign, and he is having it done merely to see just how far the American people are co-operating with him in the conservation of food.

Sgt. BERNARD E. LEWIS

is the nineteen year old son of Mr. Henry J. Lewis, of this city. Sgt. Lewis was with the Medical Post, Ft. Logan, Little Rock, Ark., when the picture was taken. On Nov. 11, he with his Company were sent to Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., and by now they are sailing the high seas for France.

Sgt. Lewis is one among the first of the Cloverport boys to volunteer. He began training as a private and in October was promoted to the rank of Sergeant. Today he represents the type of soldier of which America is so proudly boasting, one who is fit physically, mentally, and morally. And, too, he is not in the war just for the novelty of the thing or because it is compulsory, but he gives reason in his own words in a letter to his father which is published below, and that in itself is more credit to father and son than all things else that could be said of this American soldier.

"My dear Father:—I am getting what I expected. I am going to leave here tomorrow afternoon for Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga. Will be attached to the 34th Regiment—that means France for me. I don't know how long I will be in Georgia, will have to let you know later.

Now I don't want you to be worried a bit about me for that is just what I want. I will feel more like I am in the army if I go to France. I joined the army to do my bit so I can do better over there I think.

Well, I guess this is all for this time. Will write you when I get there.

Your loving son,

Bernard E. Lewis.

P. S.—Kiss mother and the kids for me.

FACTORY IS SOLD

Ben Clarkson, of Big Spring, Ky., Buys Trammel Plant, On Fifteenth Street.

Another industry was acquired for Louisville during the past week in the purchase by Ben S. Clarkson, of Big Spring, Ky., of the factory owned by Thomas Trammel, on Fifteenth street, south of St. Louis avenue. Mr. Clarkson will open a tobacco retarding business about January 1. He has had considerable experience in that business in the past, but on a smaller scale than he contemplates operating here.

The property was acquired at a price said to be about $25,000. The deal was closed through Caldwell Norton, of the Norton Caldwell Company. The site is on an Illinois Central switch and has ample shipping facilities. Negotiations with Mr. Clarkson relative to locating the plant here have been under way for some time through the Louisville Industrial Foundation. The new plant will engage a large force of workmen.—Louisville Times November 10.

Lieut. W. B. White Marries Texas Girl.

Lieut. W. B. White, of the 24th Infantry, stationed at Naco, Ariz., and Miss Mabel Pruett, of Terrell, Tex., were married at 8 o'clock, Wednesday morning, Nov. 7, 1917, at the residence of Rev. W. C. Brewer, in Douglas. They were attended by Miss Katherine Hipp, of Bisbee, and Lieut. C. M. Petty, of the 21st Infantry. After the ceremony the party had a wedding breakfast before going to their home in Naco.

The announcement of Lieut. W. B. White's marriage is of especial interest here as this is his former home. He is the son of the late Mrs. Emma Skillman and a grandson of Mrs. Anna Hardin, of Holt, Ky.

To Determine Coal Situation.

Chairman Wylie B. Bryan, of the State Fuel Commission has appointed W. J. Piggott, Irvington, chairman; Chas. Dean, Glen Dean; John A. Barry and John D. Babbage, Sr., Cloverport as representatives of the fuel commission, to gather statistics concerning the coal situation in Breckinridge county.

Administrator's Notice.

All persons having claims against the estate of James A. Beavin, deceased, of Mattingly, are hereby notified to present them, properly proven as required by law, on or before the last day of Feb., 1918.

J. F. Knue, Admr. of James A. Beavin, deceased.

Expires Suddenly.

Dr. Paul Dempster, a prominent physician of Glen Dean, expired suddenly last Thursday. He was a son of Dr. R. T. Dempster and a half brother of J. M. Howard. Dr. Dempster was married several years ago, his wife being the daughter of Foster Lyons, of Irvington. He will be greatly missed in the Glen Dean community where he had a large practice.

Preparing For Santa's Annual Trip.

The store where you get "Everything Good to Eat and Wear" is having a general fall house-cleaning in both the grocery and dry goods departments. The rooms are being newly papered in soft French gray-colored paper with white moire ceilings, which lends a bright and cheery atmosphere to the store.

The owners, Messrs. J. C. Nolte and Bro., are fixing things up and making the place quite inviting for the annual visit of Mr. Santa Claus.

LOOSE LEAF HOUSE TO OPEN DEC. 8

First Sale to Be Made on the Above Date—Prices Expected to Go Sky High Before the Season is Half Over.

50c PER LB. AT LEXINGTON.

The Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse, Hardinsburg, announces in another column their opening sale for Saturday, December 8.

This promises to be a record-breaking sale in the history of tobacco selling in Breckinridge county. From reports gathered from other markets where loose leaf sales have already been made, there is no telling where the price is going. The fact is the crop is short and manufacturers and dealers are falling over each other to get their supplies and are not quibbling over the price.

The Lexington Herald says: "The latest and most interesting in tobacco is the refusal of J. R. Florence to accept 50 cents a pound for fancy Barley crop weighing 2,000 pounds and the sale of Will Hawk's crop of 8,000 pounds at 40 cents, while any amount of tobacco has been sold from 22 to 35 cents and just as many growers have refused to sell."

"We hear that the Louisville market has been sold out since May, and that prices have soared. A thousand negro heads of Barley was sold in one lot at $30 in Louisville last week. Tobacco has brought $21 this year that would not have reached $12 last year, almost doubling its value in a year. No wonder the growers refuse to sell, but on the other hand there have been plenty of sales and resales."

"The whole supply, however, now in America would not supply a continuation of the present demand, a full year so some may well afford to hold, others to sell and others again, to sell, re-buy and re-sell. But sell or hold the growers are watching every leaf and saving for full value."

In Bourbon county several farmers have sold their crops at prices ranging from $19 to $30. The loose leaf houses open in Paris December 4, and the season is eagerly anticipated by farmers, tobacco growers and the public generally. The same interest is manifested in Clark, Montgomery, Fleming, Woodford and all the Blue Grass section.

Over at Bowling Green last week there were three big opening loose leaf sales. Prominent buyers from all over the country were there eager for tobacco. The prices for dark leaf ran around $18 per hundred; several crops brought $21. The de piced sucker, it is said, after Jack frost had bit it, brought $9 per hundred.

At Vine Grove a record-breaking sale is reported. Fancy colony Burleys brought $30, $30 and $30. Of course these prices were for small lot, well picked and handled.

So our advice to Breckinridge county growers who have not sold their crops, or contracted them, is to get into this big sale. It's going sky high, take our word for it.

Mother Of Five Children Dies.

Lodsbury, Ky. Nov. 19, (Special)—Mrs. Jonas Basham who has been in ill health for some time, died Thursday Nov. 15. The remains were interred in Walnut Grove cemetery on Friday. Rev. I. C. Argabright conducted the funeral services.

Mrs. Basham was forty-two years old. Besides her husband and five children she leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller, five brothers, Dan Miller and Frank Miller of California, Abe Miller of Missouri, Roll Miller and Asia Miller of Breckinridge county. Two sisters, Mrs. Will Basham and Mrs. Will Simmons.

Suffragettes Meet In Lexington.

The Kentucky Equal Rights Association issues a call to its County Auxiliaries to send their elected delegates to meet with officers, committees and members in annual convention. The place chosen is Lexington, Kentucky, Phoenix Hotel. The date, Nov. 30—Dec. 1, 1917. On the evening of Nov. 30, Mrs. Nellie McClung, a gifted Canadian will address the Association and the following evening, the Hon. Jeannette Rankin, the first and only woman representative in Congress, will speak at the Lexington Opera House.

"OVER THE TOP" ---AWAY OVER

Breckinridge County Exceeds the Goal in the Y. M. C. A. Campaign by $124—Irrington Leads.

Breckinridge county goes away "over the top" in the Y. M. C. A. campaign to the amount of $124. The quota for the county was $550 and the amount collected was $674, as announced by the County Chairman, W. J. Piggott, of Irvington. Irvington lead in the largest amount subscribed, and all the other towns exceeded their goal with the exception of Stephensport and Hardinsburg.

The quota for each town, the leader and the amount collected is given as follows:

Paul Compton, Hardinsburg; quota, $150; paid $121.

David B. Phelps, Cloverport; quota $150; paid $150.

J. M. Harbison, Irvington; quota $125; paid $226.

Dr. J. W. Meador, Custer; quota $25; paid $55.

Rev. J. E. Meng, Glen Dean; quota $75; paid $81.

W. J. Schopp, Stephensport; quota $25; paid $12.

Quota for the county $550, paid $674.

Chairman W. J. Piggott wishes to express his appreciation through the press to the lenders who so valiantly aided in the closing campaign and to the donors who gave of their material wealth for the work of the Y. M. C. A.

Judge Dowell and Mrs. Dowell Celebrate.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, 1917, Judge and Mrs. D. D. Dowell entertained a number of their friends by celebrating their sixteenth wedding anniversary with a mock wedding. The house was decorated in pink and white. At eight o'clock the guests were taken by surprise when the ribbon girls, Mrs. Russell Compton and Mrs. J. C. Overly, entered the parlor followed by the bride party. They were met at the altar by Rev. J. E. Meng, who performed the ceremony. Mrs. P. Morris Beard acted as bride's maid and Dr. J. C. Overly as best man.

After the ceremony a delicious lunch was served consisting of a salad course and brick cream, with the figures 16 in pink. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Beard, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Overly, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Beard, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Kinchee, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dowell, Rev. J. E. Meng, and Mrs. P. Morris Beard.

At 10:30 o'clock all departed wishing the bridal couple many more happy years.

Tobacco Growers of Breckinridge and Adjoining Counties!

The first sale of tobacco over the Loose Leaf Floor in Owensboro, will take place on Tuesday, Dec. 4th.
We will hold our first sale over our floor on Saturday, December 8, 1917

we will open our doors to receive tobacco on Monday, December 3rd and will be glad to accept the patronage of our friends from every nook in existence. We take this liberty to express our views to those who are holding their crops for our market; we feel that you will have no regrets for your decision; for those who have made mistakes we feel kindly toward, and extend our sympathy; we are not expecting to sell this crop for any more money than it will bring in Owensboro and an other markets, but we wish to again impress you with the fact that every honest effort will be made for the advancement of this market, and we know that our facilities for handling this tobacco are second to no market in the Green River section; we have the floor space, we have the light, and we have the nerve to do our FULL DUTY; this market in Hardinsburg was not established for the sole benefit of the owners of this floor, but for the advancement of every grower in this section; we appeal to you for your influence and support and pledge our untiring efforts for your interests.

Gratefully,

WAR BISCUITS ARE NOT SO BAD

After All. Mrs. C. C. Richardson Demonstrates the Making of Them in Flour Countries. Home Demonstration Clubs Organized.

If all the war time recipes prove to be as palatable as the war biscuits, the American people will not starve by any manner of means. If any difference the majority of people will be much healthier, due to the fact that war receipts are calling for less shortening and more corn meal in the "staff of life."

A demonstration of war biscuits was given in this city last Tuesday afternoon in the Masonic banquet room by Mrs. C. C. Richardson one of the seventeen representatives of the War Extension Board.

At the conclusion of the demonstration a Home Demonstration Club was organized with Mrs. Ben Ridgeway, President; Mrs. J. Byrne Severs, Vice President; and Mrs. C. G. Brabandt, Secretary.

Mrs. Richardson is demonstrating in four counties, Meade, Breckinridge, Hancock and Grayson.

She demonstrated in Irvington Monday afternoon in the Methodist church. The Home Demonstration Club was organized there also. Miss Eva Carrigan was appointed President, Mrs. R. H. McGlothlin, Vice President and Miss Mary Henry, Secretary. Thirty members were enrolled.

Several of the housekeepers have tested the war biscuit recipe which is given below, and have found it both appetizing and satisfying.

2 cups flour sifted,
1½ cups corn meal
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening.
Enough milk to mix into soft dough.
Sift all dry ingredients twice.
(All measures level.)

CARTER'S LANDING

Well the rooster was a coon this time by gum. All a board for Salt River. Would have reported sooner but our boat was in a leaky condition took a week to cork and pitch her. The Hon. Edward Gregory will pilot the boat. Those who have engaged passage on this trip are: Mayor Chas. Hannan, Allen Black, Leon McGavock, J. M. Lewis, John Dean, of Cloverport, Sam Dix and Frank Greenwood, Stephensport, and Ken Rhodes, of Hardinsburg. Allen Black will surely be lonesome, being the only republican on board. The democrat boys will spend the winter shooting coons as the coon was the cause of them making this trip. Now for the benefit of those who wish to write to any of the party while on this trip will say that our address will be 23 Skiddoo, St., Salt River, Ky.

LEPTIC RELIEF FITS

A few days before the election we met the Hon. John Dean candidate for Police Judge of Cloverport, we walked up to Mr. Dean extended our hand made a noise something like this, Good Morning Judge, John shoved his hat back and said, "Mud you're fined one fifty." We are now in the hospital suffering with a bad case of nervous prostration. Ken Rhodes says the election returns gives him a pain. Leon McGavock late candidate for Councilman says he lost but won.

Our address isn't anywhere in France as yet but it looks now like we will have to go and help get the Kaiser.

Eugene Smith, Milton Gilliam, Laton Elder, Hubert Elder, Franklin Stephens and Alfred Miller six well known sluckers at the table started for Central, Ill., last week. On days when its too cold to sluck some big records will be reported. Franklin Stephens reports that he don't stoop to huck down corn, uses patent slucking pegs on his heels.

GLEN DEAN

H. H. Cox, Gracey, Ky., and son, Joe Cox, who was stationed at Greenville, S. C., soon to leave for France visited Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson returned home with them to be with her brother until he leaves.

J. E. Meng has just closed a meeting at Black Lick, had several additions.

Miss Nell Dempster writes she likes her work as teacher at Stanford, Ky.

W. C. Moorman and wife accompanied by his mother, spent Nov. 6th here and took dinner with the Ladies Aid who served dinner in the bank.

C. A. Bennett will soon return as flight agent here again.

The Temperance program given at Sand Knob church near here recently was a decided success.

FRYMIER

Several from here attended the pie supper at Hunker Hill Saturday night.

L. S. Brashear spent the week end with Roy H. Dusett, of Union Star.

Homer Barr spent last Sunday with the Misses Brashear.

Mrs. Ivy Pollock spent Friday night with Allie Keys, of Lodi-burg.

Lena M. Brashear spent Wednesday night with her aunt, Mrs. R. Bruner.

Miss Fannie Bruner spent the week end with Mrs. Gus Burger and attended church here Saturday night.

Mrs. Bertha Kelly, of Louisville, is visiting Miss Ida Wheeler.

Miss Mollie Barr went to Louisville Sunday to visit her sister, Mrs. Harry Ellsworth and Mr. Ellsworth.

Mrs. H. E. Frymier and baby, Anna Hunter, visited her sister, Mrs. Wade

Recruits Learn to Milk in England's Army of Women.

Across in England women are doing strange and wonderful things in many places. The Woman's Land Army is "going in" for the domestic and agricultural arts. The serious phase is that they are doing these things as an aid in war time to the nation. They are filling the places of the men who have gone to fight. At St. Augustine College, one of Canterbury's most ancient buildings, girls are living in the monastery and taking their meals in the thirteenth century dining hall. Some of them are taking lessons in milking in the grounds, as those shown here.

Pile and Mr. Pile, of Hardinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bruner and Mrs. Lydia Dagger were the dinner guests of S. J. Brashear and family last Thursday.

Mrs. Will Shellina attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Hazel Paype, of Webster, to Mercer Basham, of Lodi-burg, Saturday evening.

Amandus Biddle motored here from Indiana and spent several days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Biddle, and was accompanied home by his sister, Mrs. Will Grant and baby.

Herbert C. Dodson, who has been in California for the past four years, came Wednesday to spend the winter with his mother, Mrs. Mary Dodson.

S. J. Brashear and C. L. Dodson have given their dwelling houses a coat of paint which adds very much to the improvement.

Rev. H. J. Blackburn, of Wolf Creek, preached here Saturday to a large congregation, and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham.

Owen C. Bruner, deputy under A. T. Beard, County Clerk, left Monday for Hardinsburg to resume his duties in the new line of work. To lose Mr. Bruner from the community means we are losing a fine young man of high ideals, but we wish him success in his new line of business.

Hang All Traitors, Gerard's Advice.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 13.—The time for repentance of disloyal Americans and pro-German sympathizers has passed and the day is at hand when every person must decide whether he is for or against America, declared James W. Gerard, former American Ambassador to Germany, in an address at a food conservation mass meeting here today.

"Americans are to be congratulated on their efforts to induce Germans in this country to be loyal, but there are still many under the protection of the American flag who are snakes in the grass," said the former Ambassador. "The time has come however, when they must say straightforwardly whether they are for or against America."

"We should 'hog-tie' every disloyal German American, feed every pacifist raw meat and hang every traitor to a lamp post. To insure success in this war. And our traitors are not all German Americans, but some men high in public life are adding the Prussian cause. There is no dirtier chapter in American politics than the crusade of these men, whose names you know."

China Will Exchange Films With U. S.

Chinese merchants in China have cooperated with Americans in the formation of a new moving picture company with a capital of $100,000 to be known as the China Motion Picture Company. It has been organized with a view to manufacturing pictures in both countries for exchange, and it is expected that great benefit to both countries will result in the better acquaintance each will have with the other through the medium of the "movies."

STARS AND STRIPES CHEERED IN PARIS

Paris.—The Stars and Stripes still stir up big demonstrations of enthusiasm in the French capital, even though months have elapsed since the United States entered the war.

The grand finale at the Folies Bergere the other night brought out the flags and national anthems of the allied nations as in George Cohan. The British colors and "God Save the King" brought a demonstration and a large number in the audience rose to their feet. The Italian, Belgian, Roumanian, Serbian, Russian and Portuguese flags all brought applause.

Uncle Sam had the big place in the tableaux. When a pretty girl strode on the stage waving the Stars and Stripes and the orchestra swung into "The Star Spangled Banner" the house went mad. A Canadian soldier proposed three cheers for the Yanks. Uncle Sam received an ovation that would have gladdened the hearts of Americans everywhere.

LETTERS FROM THE HOME BOYS IN SERVICE

Mr. John D. Babbage,
Cloverport, Ky.

Dear Sir:—

Please send my paper to me here. I think I have my subscription paid for some time, if not I will send you check to cover it for one year.

I am in the army and like as well or better than I expected. I am in Division Headquarters office and have been since I came which has been four weeks to day.

Yours truly,

E. H. Ashcraft,
Div. Hdqtrs. Troop,
Camp Gordon Atlanta, Ga.

The Breckenridge News,
Cloverport, Ky.

Dear Editor:—

Ordinarily I would not write you a letter for publication, but I understand that a nation wide campaign is being put on by the Y. M. C. A. to raise funds to conduct its work in the army for the coming year. Considering the many benefits that I and my comrades have received and are receiving, I feel it a sort of duty to let the folks back home know what the Y. M. C. A. means to us fellows. It provides outdoor and indoor games, baseball, basket ball, volleyball, football, checkers and chess.

It supplies entertainment, music and moving pictures. It conducts classes, French, English and other educational branches.

It organizes Bible classes and promotes a strong religious work program. It keeps the fellows out of trouble by filling their spare hours with useful and enjoyable occupations. It takes the place here of school, church and home and more.

It is the Soldiers' and Sailors' Club. The secretaries are the finest men I ever met. When we go over sea these comforts and men will go with us to do for the American boys what they are doing for our Allies, England, France, Russia, and Italy. The "Y" is already over there.

The aim of this work is at all times to keep us fit, happy and contented, and our officers and pastors of near-by churches are helping greatly to bring these results. To render this service here and at the other camps, 600 buildings and tents are required in America and hundreds more abroad. Thousands of men, together with equipment and maintenance are also necessary. And it doesn't cost us fellows a cent. Who pays it all? Well, I've wondered myself, but I've just heard how they do it.

As usual they call on the folks back home. I've been told, too, that the fund which was raised for this work last spring has been exhausted, and they're going out again—a nation wide campaign to secure enough money to last until July 1919.

There will be campaign committees in every State and you'll probably hear more about it. It is going to take $35,000,000. That's a lot of money, but when you think that several million men at home and abroad are to be served, it certainly is worth many times that amount.

Take it from me, if you know anybody who really wants to make his money count, in winning the war by giving the fellows the things they need, tell him to write his check in as many figures as he can and we'll lick the Kaiser in half the time it will take if this money is not subscribed. The Y. M. C. A. does more for the army and navy than any other thing I know. That is all I know to say about the Y. M. C. A. My home is in Harard Ky. I have been in the service six months.

Yours truly,

Priv. Lee Pile,

The well-dressed farmer

MOST men who own farms are well-dressed these days; they know that a man's appearance is regarded by his neighbors as some indication of his prosperity. And most farmers are prosperous; and all of them want to look prosperous.

We have one great advantage in talking to farmers about clothes.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are so well known to all of you that we needn't say very much about quality; you know they're good clothes. The name of these makers on any garment is all that the well informed buyer needs to see; after that it's merely a question of finding your style and size. We don't have to "sell" Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; men who appreciate good goods "buy" them.

We mention farmers especially in this advertisement because they are, of all business men, most keen to have the best for their money. They appreciate value.

We sell lots of good clothes to farmers; just as we do all sorts of business men; Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are the kind such men want.

MERELY A SUGGESTION.

Over in Greenfield, Ind., the churches have agreed to have their evening services on Sunday afternoons during the winter months in order to save coal.

Why wouldn't this be a good plan for the churches in our town to adopt during the winter and conserve the coal? On Sunday afternoons, there are six hours when the churches are not being used save for one hour for the children's meeting—and all that time coal is being consumed so as to keep the buildings warm for the evening services.

The plan could be carried out very easily by having the young peoples meeting either before or after the regular preaching service and have the preaching service at the 10 o'clock hour, five o'clock, which is really the prettiest time of the Sabbath day.

If each church saves only one bucket of coal a Sunday, and we know in mid-winter it will take more than one bucket of coal to keep the fire, there will be four or five buckets saved in one month—and the five churches, in finding the colored churches, would save nearly twenty-five buckets a month and so on.

This may appear to be a very simple matter to some but it is these small matters that count because in time they grow to be very big matters. And the conservation of coal is vastly important during war times. This not only applies to the churches alone, but to the business houses and homes as well.

It is hoped that this suggestion will in time be acted upon and the local ministers with the aid of their parishioners do what is a patriotic duty in the plan of conserving coal.

"YOU WILL NOTICE."

No more imposing message has been delivered by President Wilson than his reference to the war mission of his one time peace adviser, Col. E. M. House:

"You will notice I sent a friend of mine, Col. House, to Europe, who is as great a lover of peace as there is in the world, but I didn't send him on a peace mission. I sent him on a mission to find out how the war can be won."

President Wilson was addressing the country in general and organized labor in particular. The only way to peace is through victory, and victory depends upon the faithfulness of those who watch and work at home.

No American fully comprehend the transformation necessary to national war discipline. If they did there would be no industrial obstacles—no strikes, no sullen withholding of full support to our armies in the field.

"To find out how the war can be won" signifies a search for the winning strategy. But that strategy must be applied by the millions of workers and producers at home.

It is no longer possible to mistake the purpose of the United States. And we are near the day when there will be but two classes among us; the loyal and the disloyal.—New York Sun.

"OVER THE TOP."

And Breckinridge county went "over the top." To say that we are glad, is expressing it mildly. We believe this was an unusual campaign in the sense that we heard more than one say that they wanted to give before they were asked. And then the majority must have given as nearly all of the fund in Cloverport was made up of dollar subscriptions, and it may have been made up all over the county likewise. The County Chairman, Mr. W. J. Piggott, and his able leaders, deserve credit for their services. However, it should not have been a hard task, because we can't imagine why any one would refuse to give to the Y. M. C. A. work, especially after reading the letters from the soldier boys who appeal for it—unless they are German sympathizers.

The Breckinridge News has devoted a great deal of time and space to the soldier boys this week. We are only too glad to have the opportunity of doing something, which we trust, will bring them happiness for you might say, at present "they are the apple of our eye." We feel very deeply what these boys are doing for us individually and in return, we want to do as much, if possible, for them.

Venice, the city which has been the source of inspiration for so many poets and musicians, is now pictured as looking like the deserted village. The Venetians sold their most treasured relics for mere songs before they left their city to the mercy of the Germans.

Thursday of next week is Thanksgiving. The President wants us to make it a day of fasting and prayer in place of a day of feasting and gaieties. We wonder how many will fast and pray?

Remember your soldier boy with a subscription to the Breckinridge News for a Christmas present—it will give him more news from home in a week than you could write in a month.

It is a pity all of us haven't a far-sighted vision so we could be able to look beyond our own four walls and see how much there is in this world for us to do.

A sugar famine won't be so bad—you know it is stylish to drink your tea and coffee straight.

FARM AND STOCK.

T. L. Callahan, who bought the Wetherington farm near Hardinsburg, about a year ago, says he is well pleased with his purchase and his crop this year. He has 9,000 pounds of red tobacco, 20 acres of corn, 10 head hogs and plenty of supplies to run him through the winter. Mr. Callahan is a good farmer and citizen.

Rev. J. Duggins rented a farm last fall and has made enough money out of his part of the crop to buy him a small farm in Codyville, near Hardinsburg, where he will move, install a grist mill and run his farm.

J. W. Hendrick has a fine crop of 16,000 pounds of Burley for which he turned down an offer of $25 per hundred. He has 40 acres of corn that will average 40 bushels to the acre.

Dave Henning sold his farm of 130 acres to Charley Davis for $8,000.

John Beeler refused $16,000 cash for his farm.

W. J. Blair sold his crop of 7,000 pounds of one sucker tobacco for $16 round.

Hubert DeJarnette turned down an offer of $25 for 3,000 pounds of Burley and $16 for 5,000 pounds of red tobacco.

J. J. Haynes, of Clifton Mills, delivered a wagon load of 900 pounds Burley at Garfield last week that brought him $175.50. Mr. Haynes drove home with smiles all over his face. This was only a part of his crop.

Bern Severs is proud of his farm out on the pike. He has holed up for winter 25 bushels of Irish potatoes and 200 head of cabbage, besides other garden truck. Bern is a very enthusiastic young farmer.

Hugh McGavock and Mrs. McGavock were here last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McGavock, and sister, Mrs. J. R. Bandy and Mr. Bandy. Hugh raised a crop of tobacco at Webster and sold it for $1,000. He will leave soon for Sheridan, Ark., where he will buy land and locate.

Lum Smith & Sons, of Sample, sold their crop of 10,000 pounds of dark and 5,000 pounds of Burley tobacco at $12.25 for dark and $20 for Burley.

Allen Lewis, of Stephensport, sold his crop of 10,000 pounds of Burley at $25. Pete Flood sold 8,000 pounds of Burley at $25, and has 20,000 pounds of one sucker for sale.

J. H. Gibson & Son report their crop of 30 acres of corn at 1,500 bushels; 8,000 pounds yellow Prior, and 10 acres of wheat that is six inches high. They are expecting a yield of 35 to 40 bushels to the acre.

H. L. Bruner, of Union Star, was delivering wheat to the Stephensport mill Saturday at $2.10 per bushel.

Dick Robertson, a tenant on Fred Dutschke's farm, delivered to W. J. Schopp, Stephensport, Saturday two small loads of Burley that brought him $144.

Gabe Pierce, of Holt, sold his crop of 20,000 pounds of dark tobacco to W. J. Schopp at $13 round. He also sold a car load of corn to Roberts & Thornberry, Lewisport, at $1 f. o. b. Holt.

W. J. Schopp was a busy man last Saturday. In fact, he is a busy man every day in the week. He buys tobacco, stock, hay, corn, anything the farmer has to sell, and pays good prices. Last week he received between 75,000 and 100,000 pounds of tobacco at prices ranging from $13 to $25 and $26 per hundred. Mr. Schopp has a fine house for handling and receiving tobacco. The farmers appreciate what he is doing in giving them a good market, good prices for their products, and they return home all smiles with their pockets full of money.

Eighteen hogheads of new Burley were sold on the Louisville market last week at prices ranging from $19.75 to $30.50.

A good idea for growers of Burley tobacco, when stippling their crops, is to save all the fine, color and class leaves for cigarette use, and put them on the loose leaf sales. They will bring from $40 to $75 per hundred pounds.

The Burley crop this year is short and the indications are that it will go to $30 or more for the best color class grades.

It is reported that one of the largest manufacturing concerns in Louisville bought a million pounds of old Burley last week at $30, making a clean sweep of all on the market.

John Pate has sold his farm, which is near Cloverport, to Alfred DeHaven, of Atkins.

Vic Robertson bought of Felix Heady, of Owensboro, one fine coming 4-year-old mare mule for $265. From Simon Smart, Cloverport, one good mule for $210. He sold to Pearce & Ellis, Shelbyville, one load of mules from $140 to $235 per head. He sold to A. N. Skillman & Son one pair of mules for $150; to Tom Groves, Tobinsport, Ind., one pair for $425.

W. P. Romine and Mrs. Romine, who sold their farm near Garfield, have bought the Shellman property in Hardinsburg and were moving in Monday. Mr. Best, manager of the Trust Department of the Bank of Hardinsburg & Trust Co., made the sale. Price $2,000.

Beard Bros. were busy Monday receiving and paying out big money to the farmers for their tobacco. They had received up to Monday a total 75,000 pounds.

Alle Squires sold his crop of Prior to John O'Reilly & Sons at $20 round.

Beard Bros. bought the following crops of tobacco at Melanale: Willie Cannon, 20,000 red at $16; Guy Hart 15,000 at $15. Their whole purchase in the Forks of Rough is over 200,000 pounds.

W. R. Moorman & Son sold their crop of dark tobacco to Robert Moorman at $15.

Ed O'Reilly, a hustling young farmer residing near Cloverport, had the misfortune of having thieves to pay him a visit one night last week. They stole a ham, shoulder and side of meat and all the canned goods he had stored away for the winter. The same night thieves entered nearly every house in Tobinsport and carried away numerous articles.

H. M. Tate, of Vanzant, sold his crop of dark tobacco to Beard Bros. for $12.50 round. Mr. Tate is a prosperous farmer of that neighborhood. He is now a reader of the Breckinridge News and wants to keep up with progressive ideas in his work.

J. B. Allen's Farm Sale
Brings Good Prices.

J. B. Allen's sale near Hardinsburg last Wednesday was well attended.

by farmers stock dealers, tobacco buyers, bankers and lawyers. A sale like this always attracts people whether they want to buy or not. They get a line on what is going on in the neighborhood, meet their friends and neighbors and enjoy the day.

D. W. Henry was the auctioneer and Joe Trent was the clerk. The farm was the first item offered. It brought $5,000 and R. M. Henning was the buyer. Farm implements brought fairly good prices. Jim Flood bought a practically new farm-wagon for $73. Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman bought a young stallion for $120 a young jennett for $40 and one 9 year old for $49.

A fine young jack went to Jesse Miller for $50. Cage Arms horse for $110, and Taylor Tate 3 1/2 months old jennett for $15.50. The corn brought $1.10 per bushel, hay $14 and $17 per ton.

Mr. Allen will move back to his old home in the Blue Grass.

Brandenburg Physician Dead.

Dr. John Richard Dink aged forty-nine years died Saturday evening Nov. 17 at the St. Joseph's Infirmary Louisville. The remains were taken to Brandenburg and the funeral was held there Monday afternoon at two o'clock.

Dr. Dink was the most prominent physician in Brandenburg. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma Hartman Dink.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson were in Louisville Saturday to see their son who is at Camp Zachary Taylor. They have another son who is in the U. S. Navy.

The Ladies' Reading Club will meet this week with Mrs. W. H. Bowmer in place of Mrs. A. R. Fisher, owing to the illness of Mr. Fisher who is in proving.

Mrs. Frank White and children, Henry Richard White and Frances White, left Monday for Danville, Ill., to visit Mr. White, who has accepted a position in that city.

Mrs. John D. Babbage and daughter, Miss Mildred Babbage, will be in Louisville Wednesday and Thursday the guests of Mrs. D. W. Fairleigh and Miss A. G. Ditto.

Mrs. Clovius Bowlds and daughter, Miss Thelma Bowlds, of Louisville, arrived Saturday evening to be the guests of Mrs. Bowlds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Berry, until after the Christmas holidays.

When you get ready for that roofing send your order to Fordville Plauglog Mill Company, who carry a large stock of good, reliable composition rubber roofing. They will gladly furnish samples upon request.

Mrs. Mattie Barger, of Frymire, went to Louisville Thursday with several bundles of sewing she had done for the soldiers. Mrs. Barger handed us $1.50 for the Breckenridge News and gave us a piece of her mind for stopping her paper.

The following young people attended the Teachers Institute which met in Rome, Ind., last Saturday: Misses Ella Leaf, Verda Polk and Mable Polk, Mrs. Walter Weatherholt and Rother Weatherholt, of Tobinsport, and Miss Myrtle Casper, of Cannelton. The teachers were chaperoned by Mr. White Sauders.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

Thanksgiving Service.

A union service of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches, will be held in the Methodist church, Thanksgiving day at 9:45 a. m. Rev. Couch will deliver the sermon and special music will be rendered by all the choirs.

Rev. A. N. Couch has returned from Paducah, where he attended the General Association of Kentucky Baptists. Between 400 and 500 visitors were present at the meeting. The Association decided to raise $65,000 in this State for missions during 1918. $60,000 74 was raised in 1917 for foreign missions; $39,782.56 for home missions and $71,786.91 for State missions.

Rev. Couch was appointed as a member of the ministers aid committee.

An all day prayer meeting service was held at the Methodist church, Wednesday, in observance of the annual week of prayer of the Woman's Missionary Society. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. F. M. Smith. A special collection for the missionaries in China, was taken and amounted to $12.65.

Rev. R. E. Reeves filled his regular appointment at the Locle Memorial church, Sunday morning and evening.

The Presbyterian prayer meeting night has been changed from Tuesday night to Friday night, followed by choir practice under the direction of Miss Eva May and Miss Eliza May.

On Friday evening, Nov. 30, the Epworth League will give a Book social. Each member is invited to come and bring a book from their own library, one that is good and worth while reading as they are to be forwarded to the library at Camp Zachary Taylor.

Mr. Andrew Ashby will speak at the social, in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. and Miss Mildred Babbage will tell what the Red Cross societies are doing in helping to win the war. Refreshments will be served.

There will be services at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. In the absence of the pastor, who expects to be in Hardinsburg, the pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Stanley, of the Baptist Theological Seminary, of Louisville. Rev. Stanley preached here two weeks ago and he made a very favorable impression upon the members of the congregation.

Thanksgiving services of the Epworth League will be conducted Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock by Mrs. W. L. Baker. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

Sudden Death Of Mrs. Holder.

Word was received here late Saturday night of the death of Mrs. Oscar Holder of Louisville, caused from an acute indigestion. On Saturday the day of her death, Mrs. Holder had been in town several times and when she returned to her home in the evening she was apparently in the best health. After supper while sitting in a chair and talking to Mr. Holder she became suddenly ill and died within five minutes.

The remains were taken to Terre Haute, Ind., Mrs. Holder's former home and the funeral service was held there Tuesday.

Mrs. Tom Holder of this city was in Louisville Sunday to be with her son, Mr. Holder.

Throws Away Mangled Arm.

Martins Ferry, O.—His arm almost severed by a train, H. Armstrong of Butler, Pa., remarked that it was of no use to him, and, tearing loose the silver of flesh that was holding it, threw the arm into the weeds beside the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad tracks at Bridgeport the other day. The accident occurred in Kirkwood. Armstrong was struck by a train and when found by pedestrians was covered with blood. He was taken to the Martins Ferry hospital.

Honor Paid Squire Heron.

Kentucky News Cullings

An epitome of most important events transpiring in state

Lexington.—Circuit Judge Charles Kerr, in a strong charge to the grand jury, urged a thorough investigation of alleged election frauds in the City Commissioner's race.

Whitesburg.—William Spangler, 17 years old, a teamster, of Thornton, was severely hurt when a loaded wagon passed over his body. He is thought to be internally injured.

Versailles.—The five Protestant churches of Versailles, in order to conserve fuel, joined in union services on Sunday nights during the winter. The first union service was held last Sunday night in the Baptist church.

Hopkinsville.—State Superintendent V. O. Gilbert addressed the Rural Life Conference at Pembroke, Ky., conducted by C. L. Timberlake, a negro educator of this place. Several hundred negro farmers attended the conference and were given wholesome instruction.

Louisville.—Some ideas of what the price of coal in Louisville and the rest of the state will be this winter will be known within a few days, according to Wiley B. Bryan, Federal Fuel Administrator for Kentucky, who at present is engaged in organizing each county of the state.

Versailles.—A telegram received by A. C. Hunter, cashier of the bank of J. Amsden & Co. here, stated his nephew, Edward Cuthbert Platt, Jr., was killed in battle in France. Platt was a Lieutenant in a Canadian regiment and had been in France three months. He was 37 years old.

Paris.—Chief of Police Link and Patrolman Myres placed under arrest at a Paris boarding house a young man giving the name of Ormes on suspicion that he is the man who shot and killed a Cincinnati policeman last week. A revolver was found on him. He was taken to Cincinnati for examination.

Owensboro.—Three coal mines in Daviess county have been forced to close as a result of a strike of the miners, which was called recently. The two Rudy mines and the Lion Harbor have closed. The operators of these mines have declined to sign a contract with the miners recognizing the union.

Carlisle.—Nicholas county has a new clerk of the circuit court, Martin McCann, 22 years old. He was elected recently and succeeded I. C. Taylor, who was appointed last March when Circuit Clerk Solomon Robertson died. Mr. McCann will fill out the unexpired term which does not expire until January, 1922.

Lexington.—Claiming that they had "just grown tired of camp life and walked away intending to return in a few days," Will Saltee, 23 years old, of Ludlow, and Alton Paris, 23, of Hartford, Ky., members of M Company, Second Kentucky, were arrested here and charged with having deserted from Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg.

Louisville.—The World's Purity Congress elected these officers: B. S. Steadwell, La. Cross, Wis., re-elected president; Rev. T. Albert Moore, Toronto, Canada, re-elected first vice president; Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, Alexandria, Va., second vice president; Laurence E. Brownell, Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, secretary.

London.—Telegrams received here from Atlanta advise that McCall Fitzgerald, of this city, died suddenly of apoplexy in the Federal prison there. He was formerly cashier of the First National Bank of this city, and was sentenced to five years on charges of misapplication of the bank's funds in connection with its failure.

Barbourville.—The month of October furnished a new high record for drilling operations and new production in Kentucky's petroleum fields. A total of 176 wells, with thirty dry holes, and a new daily production of 2,750 barrels, was shown. This exceeds former figures, both in number of completed wells and new production.

Paris.—Grover Cleveland Morgan, who escaped from the Paris jail by soaping his body and squeezing through a space eight inches wide between his cell window sill and the bars was captured in Maysville and returned to Paris. Morgan escaped from the Fort Leavenworth, Kan., prison a few years ago by crawling through a sewer.

Louisville.—George W. Davy, 61 years old, Cincinnati, died at Norton Memorial Infirmary of a stroke of apoplexy, suffered at Sonora, Ky., on the previous day. Mr. Davy was special loan agent for the Northwestern Life Insurance Company.

Carlisle.—Prof. Gray, of Camp Zachary Taylor, addressed a large union meeting at the Christian church in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. war work. The occasion marked the beginning of a campaign in Nicholas county to raise its apportionment of $1,900.

Lexington.—Major E. S. Heiburn, of Middleshore, extensive coal operator, said coal production in Kentucky is increasing rapidly and that ample supplies of fuel will be provided for the people of this state.

Paducah.—The seventy-ninth annual assembly of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists convened at the First Baptist Church. The attendance was between 400 and 500. Many important subjects were considered.

Allensville.—The Red Cross Chapter, Allensville, shipped for November 15, the following: Sixty-six pairs of socks, twenty-four sweaters, twenty-two mufflers, three pairs wristlets, four dozen pajamas, three and one-half pairs bed socks and four well-filled comfort bags.

Ashland.—Game Warden Dowling is lying at the point of death at the King's Daughters Hospital here, suffering from a bullet wound. Night Clerk, Cliff Rice was arrested at Catlettsburg an hour after the shooting and is confined in the Ashland jail pending his examining trial.

Paducah.—Campbellsville, Ky., was chosen for the 1918 meeting of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists, and it decided to raise $65,000 in Kentucky for foreign missions during the approaching year. Baptists in the Southern States will raise $600,000 the coming year.

Winchester.—An open-air service, preliminary to the big drive which started here to raise $4,000 as Clark county's allotment for Y. M. C. A. work, was held in front of the courthouse. Two songs, "Share Our Blessings" and "God Save Our Men," were sung by a quartet.

Berea.—Social workers from over the country in attendance upon the annual Kentucky State Conference of Charities and Corrections, in session here, manifested much interest in varied and numerous social and economical problems presented to the conference for its consideration.

Shelbyville.—The organization of an Associated Charities for Shelbyville was perfected at a union meeting held at the Baptist church. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and a board of five men and five women were elected. The board of managers met and elected an executive secretary.

Maysville.—The report has just been received at the local headquarters of the Food Conservation Administrator that he is of the opinion, based on unofficial figures, that Mason county signed a larger number of pledge cards in proportion to its population than any other county in the United States.

Lexington.—Under plans being worked out by John R. Humphreys, head of the Department of Markets, College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, it is intended to establish in Lexington a plant for the wholesale distribution to co-operative stores through the state of such products as are needed by farmers.

Hopkinsville.—The tangle over the election of a police judge for the city of Hopkinsville was amicably adjusted when M. W. Criss, the fourth election officer at Precinct No. 1, came into court and signed the affidavit already signed by the other three officers, correcting the entry in the back of the ballot book.

Compton.—Jeff Brewer filed suit in the circuit court of this county contesting the office of assessor, the certificate of election being issued to Jas. Nickell, Republican. He alleges that the ballots in Third Ward, a strong Democratic precinct, were changed after they were returned to the county clerk's office.

Franklin.—Simpson county grand jury was dismissed by Judge Rhea when a final report was made. Thirteen indictments were returned, including murder, malicious striking, malicious shooting, drawing weapon, child desertion, assault and battery, breach of the peace, procuring liquor, forgery and selling liquor without license.

Louisville.—Resolutions condemning the modern dance and appealing to "Christian women in communities adjacent to all army camps to furnish wholesome and helpful entertainment to the thousands of soldiers," were passed by the International Purity Congress in tenth annual session here. A single standard of morality was the general theme of speakers.

Versailles.—Four thousand two hundred and seventy-one dollars, an over-subscription of $271 of Woodford county's allotment for Y. M. C. A. army work, had been raised up to noon on the first day of the big drive. The fact that Woodford county over-subscribed her allotment the first day of the campaign places her at the head of the list of counties in the state.

Henderson.—Thousands of bushels of corn have been gathered and cribbed in this county during the past week. River bottom farmers are pushing the work to get their crops housed before cold weather and before high water covers corn lands.

Whitesburg.—J. H. Frazier, Whitesburg merchant, held in jail here without bail for the alleged shooting of William Banks recently, has asked to be transferred to the Winchester jail. Frazier's trial will come up at the December term of the Circuit Court.

BRITISH IN LEAD AS AIR FIGHTERS

American in French Service Pays Tribute to Fliers From England.

REGARD WORK SERIOUSLY

Germans Ahead as Builders, but Britons Are Best Fliers—One Object Is to Bring Back Information Required by the Staff.

London.—"There's only one air service in this war and it's the British. If that sounds like a bit of British swank, why, it merely isn't."

It's the precise statement of the case which was made the other day by an American aviator who has been during most of the war attached to the French air service. He knows all about the air business, has taught other men to fly and to fight and has himself a highly creditable record of bringing down Hun planes. He knows all the stars of the French service and many of the British.

He paid high tribute to the German flying machines, observing repeatedly that the procession of German improvements in planes and engines moves so swiftly that the allies are all compelled to hustle constantly to keep from being outdistanced. Whenever the French and British catch up with German construction the Germans produce something new and still better.

Work With Land Forces.

Equally important, he declares, the British have much the most accurate notion of what the flying service is about. They co-ordinate it with their military operations most effectively. They have less fear of the daily report of comparative losses on both sides. They use the aircraft for certain specific purposes; when the bit of information that is wanted is accounted of more value than the chance of losing some machines, why the British service goes after the information.

At the end of the day it may be necessary to make a report admitting that more British than German machines were lost; but what of that? The needed observation was taken, or the highly important photograph was secured.

"The British operate their service not with a view to saving their machines, not with a notion of avoiding dangers as much as possible; especially not with the idea that to lose more machines than the enemy loses is a showing of inferiority, a sign of defeat."

"The British aviators are not spoiled with inaudition and heroics. They regard themselves very much as so many Tommies in the trenches do. Their business is to go up when they are told and get what they are sent for; just as Tommy's business is to hang on till his knees freeze when he's attacked, and to go over and never stop when he's ordered to attack. Neither one of them feels particularly enthusiastic about his job as a means to winning honors or distinction; he doesn't think much about that part of it. He attends strictly to the job."

"It's the sporting instinct that makes these Britishers such good flying men. They're the greatest daredevils in the business; do anything, and get away with things the Boche wouldn't think of trying. They don't look on their work as a great series of personal adventures but as part of an organized mechanism with objects a good deal bigger and more important than the interest of any one man."

"So the British don't like so much interest in the individual feats of prowess of favorite fliers. Air duelling is not the object of flying. The object is to get the information one's self for and to get back with it."

"As soon as a flier crosses the line he must count on the great danger of being shot down by these guns as well as on the chance of meeting an enemy in the air and having to fight him."

Disregard Losses.

"Of course all this means losses, and when they've tumbled up at the end of the day or week or month this part of the showing may indicate that the Boche has had all the best of it. "But if there could be pitched into the scale on the side of the British service the results gained, the value of information gained about the enemy and of information he has been prevented from gaining about our own lines, the showing of movements accurately planned because of superior information, of positions taken or artillery fire accurately placed, of soldiers' lives saved because of better intelligence about the enemy's weak places—then the showing would be a lot different."

"Suppose a set of photographs is needed by the staff showing some section of the enemy's line perhaps a considerable distance back of the front. To have those photographs may decide whether a particular move is to be undertaken and how; so the airmen are sent after em. Maybe two or three machines smashed up; perhaps some behind the enemy's lines—possibly somebody will fly for the last time. The point is that if our camera gets back with the pictures wanted the thing has been successful."

LEGAL SIDE OF SOLDIER'S LIFE OFFERS TANGLES

Department of Judge Advocate General Kept Busy Sorting Out Difficulties.

IS ALWAYS FRIEND OF MEN

Legal Questions, Which May Be Puzzling, Explained in Thorough Fashion by Men Who Have Been Trained to Understand the Points at Issue.

New York.—To relieve the perplexed minds of our soldiers awaiting a call to the battlefields of France to make complete the final rout of Europe's unmasked ruffian and what he stands for, and the subsequent assurance of world democracy, the judge advocate general's department is busy these days advising them of many legal questions most likely to affect them. At Camp Mills and Camp Upton, in this section—in fact, in every training cantonment throughout the United States—soldiers have sought advice on the allotment of pay, the making of wills, the guardianship and custody of children, actions in court, debts, mortgages, goods bought on installment, insurance and many other legal questions that usually tend to confuse the ordinary lay mind.

Here is the judge advocate general's department, especially installed to aid the soldier seeking legal advice and particularly equipped to give advice based on latest decisions of the court of appeals. A guide for soldiers—and seamen, too—has been compiled by able lawyers here for the legal aid bureau of the Educational Alliance of this city. The guide is distributed free to the soldiers in the camps. Many of the knotty problems are explained in thorough fashion. Being reminded by this pamphlet of certain obligations that bind him, the soldier then seeks the judge advocate general for the more technical procedure.

May Assign His Pay.

The pamphlet tells the soldier that an allotment of pay is much like an assignment of wages. A man in service instructs the government regularly to send part of his pay direct to his wife or his mother or other dependents. It prevents delay and possible loss, and is generally the businesslike thing to do. Cases may arise where money orders sent home by enlisted men are lost or delayed for weeks in the mails, with resulting hardship to the families. Blank forms may be obtained from commanding officers, and they forward the allotment to the quartermaster general. The government then sends the money direct to the soldier's family so long as he is in the service.

As to the making of a valid will, the soldier is given implicit instructions. He also is shown how the law distinguishes between real estate and personal property. How the law distributes his personal property should be made without making a will is forcibly brought home to him. If he leaves a wife and children his wife is entitled to one-third, the remainder going to the children in equal portions. With respect to real estate, his wife has dower rights in a one-third interest as long as she lives. Subject to this dower, the real property descends to his children, which includes legally adopted children.

Exception in Making Will.

If he leaves a wife and no children or grandchildren and no parent, brother, sister, nephew or niece, his wife takes all his personal property. Should he leave a wife and no children or grandchildren, but a parent, brother, sister, nephew or niece, then one-half of the personality and $2,000 of the residue go to the wife. Being unmarried, his entire estate goes to his father. If his father be dead, then his mother shares the estate equally with his brothers and sisters and the children of deceased brothers and sisters, the latter taking the deceased parent's share. These seem to be the principal difficulties that beset the soldier's mind. If he does not want his property to be distributed in the manner prescribed by law he must make a valid will.

At least two witnesses are necessary for the will's validity and the testator must sign the will at the end, telling the witnesses the instrument is his last will and testament. There is a notable exception: If the soldier is engaged in active service in the United States army or navy, he may make a valid will by telling two persons what he desires to be done with his property. They must write it out according to the instructions of the soldier. A will in this way can dispose of his personality, but not his real estate. This sort of will should never be made except in contemplation, fear or peril of death.

As some states do not permit this kind of will, it is not safe for the soldier to tell his comrades from other states that they can make a will in this way. If his home is in New York and he is in active service and not on furlough or detached from active service for any reason, he may take advantage of this sort of will.

Then comes guardianship of children's property. If a soldier's children own property and he is leaving them without anyone to whom he has consideration to look after that property, it may often be the case if his wife is not living, it is desirable that a guardian be appointed. A general guardian is guardian of the person as well as of the property. They are appointed by the surrogate's court or the probate court for the county in which the children live. If more than fourteen years old, the children, subject to the approval of the surrogate or probate judge, may select their own guardian.

There is a mistaken idea that a man entering military service is protected as to debts and litigation against him. The idea has arisen from the fact that in Europe, after the beginning of the war some of the governments suspended the obligations on debts and contracts.

Not a Light Excuse.

The best opinions are to the effect that state governments under our Constitution cannot suspend these obligations. This means that the fact that he is away on military service is not a legal excuse for failing to perform obligations, pay debts, insurance premiums, installments due on furniture, etc.

If there is a case now in court against a soldier he must make proper provision for attending to it. He should engage a lawyer and have him advise whether to appear or defend. This is a protection, for thereafter all notices of proceedings in the case will be sent to the attorney and he will look after the soldier's interests. A soldier must remember that an action may legally be brought against him in his absence and after he has left home. There are rules governing this phase that give a defendant an opportunity to answer in an action brought against him.

However, if he be served by publication or by personal service outside the state and there is no one to take care of his interests a judgment by default may be entered against the soldier. His property may be seized and sold on execution, excepting those chattels the law specially exempts. The advisable thing for a soldier to do is to close up his affairs before leaving. For protection in the event that action be brought against him, he should instruct some one living in his home to take any legal papers immediately to his attorney.

If he has any goods such as furniture, clothes, jewelry, or other chattels which he has bought by installments or which he owns under a lease or a conditional sale, the fact that he is called away will not relieve him from conditions in his contract or from making the specified payments as they come due.

The best thing to do, if he cannot pay up the balance due, is to arrange to have some responsible person make the payments regularly for him.

Goods May Be Taken.

If he fails to make any provision, the goods are liable to be taken away from him on default. After this the seller must go through certain formalities, for the law makes certain provisions in his favor. These matters are somewhat involved and technical, so that it is wise to take the contract to his attorney and have him advise as to his rights and as to his obligations.

In regard to mortgages on real estate and personal property, his absence is no legal excuse for failure to make payments as specified in the mortgage bond or the mortgage itself. Foreclosure may follow.

A lease of his residence is not terminated by the war or the necessities of the draft. If goods are in storage the warehouseman has a lien and may sell them to satisfy a bill. A power of attorney, under seal and acknowledged before a notary, is a safeguard for the interests of the soldier.

Entering the service does not excuse him from paying his premiums on life insurance, and failure to do so may cause the policy to lapse. The beneficiary will suffer.

He should arrange with some one to pay the premiums as they are due. The "war cause" in the policy—some have it—provides for payment at long intervals and that insurance is not to be paid if the insured meets his death in active military or naval service within a certain period after the issuing of the policy.

OR HE MIGHT WANT TO WIND 8-DAY CLOCK

Memphis, Tenn.—A young farmer from Arkansas walked into the federal building here, went to the engineering department and made application for a job as night watchman. He explained that he wanted to be sent to one of the cantonment camps to "guard the soldiers." He was told the soldiers were able to guard themselves, both day and night.

Beavers Doing Damage.

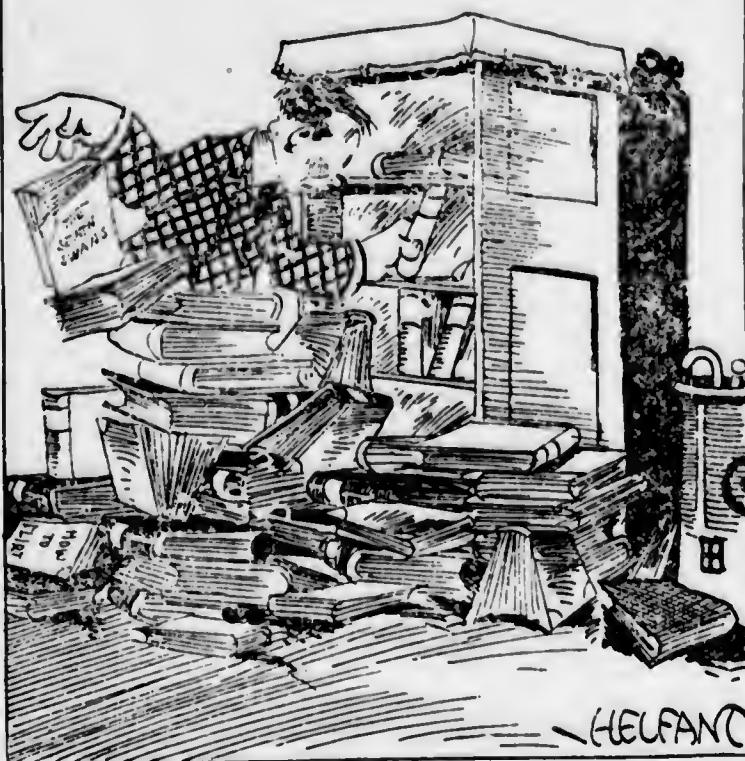

Helena, Mont.—Rev. E. J. Staley reports that the beavers are doing considerable damage in damming up the water in the White Tail Deer creek on his ranch north of the town. Every day it is necessary to send someone up the creek a couple of miles for the purpose of removing the obstruction placed in the channel every night by the busy beavers.

Girl Wears Live Snakes.

Los Angeles, Cal.—A brilliant colored yellow and black gopher, 40 inches long, is being used as a necktie by Miss Nellie Bradley of Los Angeles, who is now at Switzer's Camp in the Arroyo Seco. Miss Bradley thinks a great deal of her pet and cannot understand the aversion to her.

France Is Arranging for Supplies for 1918.

All Shipping Will Be Used for Necessities—Need 122,000,000 Bushels of Wheat.

Paris.—The purchase abroad and transportation of about 122,000,000 bushels of wheat and other cereals is one of the problems of France for the campaign of 1918. Four hundred thousand tons of shipping a month will be required for the importation of supplies the country must get on the outside.

The realization of this problem will be partly accomplished through the unified allies' purchasing board, eliminating more and more private trade with the country; the development of a ministerial department of supply will eliminate commissary department buyers, while increasing stringent measures regarding shipping will increase the tonnage available for this object.

Successive decrees now have compelled every shipowner to obtain a navigation license prescribing the particular route for each vessel and the categories of merchandise destined for the government that it would be required to take on board on each voyage, and also giving the secretary of state for merchant marine powers to limit transportation charges on products essential to the life of the country.

Henceforth all tonnage under the French flag will be systematically divided between the different categories of indispensable products. In order to assure the utmost regularity of supply. Certain voyages which were of no great utility to France have been stopped, and the transportation of coffee and other products of secondary utility to a nation at war have been suspended. Orders have been given that cotton and tobacco must be bought from the nearest market.

Navigation between France and the colony of Madagascar will be greatly reduced, and the French lines to Cuba, Argentina, Brazil and New Orleans will be reduced as regards the number of ships or sailings suspended altogether.

As a result of these measures 180,000 tons of additional shipping have been placed at the disposition of the provisioning department, and the tendency is more and more toward the intense compression of the navigation service so as to make every ton of burden count for the utmost.

MINE FIELDS MENACE NORWAY

Ownership of Drifting Agents of Destruction Is Matter of Doubt.

Christiansund.—Drifting mine fields are reported along the whole Norwegian coast from Listerland eastward. Off Hailo, 20 mines were seen drifting north to Christiansund fjord, and from Hailo many explosions have been heard.

The drifting mine fields are surrounded by a mass of drifting wreckage. Norwegian motor boats have snared many casks of wine, margarine and whale oil.

The ownership of the drifting mine fields is a matter of doubt. Certainly nobody is anxious to claim them, for they do not conform to the rules of The Hague convention, which prescribes that mines shall be so constructed that they become harmless when adrift.

ENGLISH TIP OFF TEST WAR TRICKS

Americans in Camp in England Study Under Tuition of Veterans.

"MUSTARD" GAS A DANGER

Victims Are Subject to Distressing Periods of Depression Even at Time of Convalescence—England's Countryside Delights Visitors.

London.—Perhaps the predominant impression of the visitor to the camp "somewhere in England" of American troops on their way to take part in the great war is born of the conviction of their complete happiness coupled with their adaptability to their new surroundings.

Two days after disembarking from ships that so successfully defeated the most aggressive tactics of the U-boats during the voyage from the United States coast enough of the stalwarts to make a brave showing and gladden the hearts of their English allies as an earnest of the preparations we are making at home were as comfortably settled in camp as if they had been there two years.

A party of American correspondents visiting the new arrivals as guests of the foreign office were made homeless by conversation with them. They were found enjoying all of the comforts of a well established camp ranging from the soft drinks dispensed at the Y. M. C. A. canteen to the sociability of a shingling about the piano in a pleasantly arranged assembly tent.

The one thing about the visitors that most surprised the English army officers stationed in a camp adjoining in addition to their splendid average physique was their energy and alertness, both mentally and physically.

One English officer said he had heard first impressions of England from one of our privates more interesting than he had ever heard. Attention to what the men were saying about what they had seen since their arrival supported the officer's observation.

England's Countryside a Dream.

"It's all so trim and neat—this countryside—that one can scarcely believe it's real," was the way a soldier from the vicinity of the Rockies in Colorado put it. "Of course, it would cause no wonder in a Belasco play to see such a vista of miles of beautiful countryside, of rolling pastures surrounded by evenly trimmed miniature hedges, the whole so clean and even and exact that one searches in vain to see something out of place. We thought the railways on which we traveled were compared with ours at home. Just too cute! When I come to think of it, though, we traveled about as fast as we wanted to ride anywhere, and about as comfortably, too."

The same impressionable visitor was promptly beginning to exercise himself before being sent to the front to see some of the nooks and corners of London hallowed as the haunts of famous men.

"I don't mind spilling my blood on the fields of Europe for freedom," he said, "but I don't want to do that before seeing where Shakespeare trod the stage of his Southwark theater, where Doctor Johnson and his circle of literary lights dined in Fleet street, where Charles Lamb and his sister lived, the haunts of Dickens, of Goldsmith, and the window in Whitehall from which Charles I walked to be beheaded."

"Then, of course, I wouldn't think of passing forward to contemplate myself by association with the Germans even in battle, if I had my way, before seeing the Tower of London and Westminster abbey. There are, indeed, a lot of things I've had in my mind that books don't tell, and that I want to find out for myself, anyhow."

Hear Tales of Boer War.

Under a perfect sky and warm sunshine many of the men were loitering about the camp on the greensward reading books provided by the American Y. M. C. A. when not drilling or exploring the surrounding country, to permit which the bounds of the camp had been fixed on a liberal scale.

In an adjoining camp occupied by South African troops, the Americans enjoyed long conversations with veterans of the South African war and were particularly interested while getting their stories of that stubborn fight put up by the Boers to find that as many of them had fought then against England as fought under the Union Jack.

This accidental association of Americans with the South Africans in the next camp proved profitable as well as interesting, for the colonials were the first troops with actual experience in action in the war with whom our men came in contact. Naturally they picked up many valuable tips concerning the essentials of trench warfare as well as the tricks of the Boers.

One of the Germans' latest tricks with gas was described by a soldier who spoke from experience. This is the so-called "mustard" gas shell. It is shot from a mortar and, exploding within a radius of between 25 and 50 feet from a trench, leaves its occupants with a lasting impression of the meaning of "hot stuff."

"Mustard" Victims Suffer Long. The fumes penetrate both outer clothing and underwear almost instananeously, though the hot and burning smart of the skin that follows is somewhat mercifully dulled by the blunting of the senses that follow inhalation of the fumes. Victims of the "mustard" bombs are subject to distressing periods of depression, even at the time of convalescence. Their nerves seem to have been shattered completely beyond control.

Two broad-shouldered Australians of giant stature, victims of "mustard" bombs, were found almost weeping from homesickness, due to their sympathetic depression by a fellow countryman in Trafalgar square, in London while on leave recently. They were soon induced to take a more cheerful view of matters and explained to their temporary host at dinner that the feeling against which they had been fighting was that they didn't have a friend in the world.

On the whole the voyages of our most recently arrived contingents were comparatively free from submarine attack in the sense of the actual firing of torpedoes, though several ships were compelled to fight off U-boats. In one instance a destroyer conveying a troopship was firing at a submarine on one side while a second undersea craft appeared or was detected near by the destroyer. There was reason to believe that the water bomb dropped by the destroyer at the second submarine was effective in its object.

The voyage from America was made in good time.

MILKMAN'S BOY HAD IDEA

He Put It Into Effect and Father Paid $50 Fine After Milk Inspector Got Through.

Brockton.—In an alleged effort to make sure that some company should have sufficient milk for breakfast, Kenneth Arnold, aged thirteen, son of John B. Arnold of Belmont street, East Bridgewater, added water to a can.

This performance on the part of the youth cost his father $50, for it so happened the following morning the milk inspector took a sample of the milk and it was found to contain water. The father is a milk producer.

When the elder Arnold was brought into the police court on a charge of having watered milk in his possession, the defense submitted a letter written by the boy from Acton, in which he told his mother what he had done. The court was not convinced and Arnold was fined $50.

COLONEL WEIGHS 103 POUNDS

Officer Called From Retirement Is Probably Smallest Officer in the Army.

St. Louis.—Col. Cunliffe H. Murray, who recently was recalled from retirement, has become commandant at Jefferson barracks. He is probably the smallest officer, physically, in the army, being 5 feet 2½ inches tall and weighing 103 pounds.

He was graduated from West Point in 1877 and served in the cavalry. In 1909 he was made colonel. He reached the age limit of sixty-four in August, 1910, and retired, but upon the entry of the United States into the war offered himself for any service.

Colonel Murray was appointed to West Point from New York city and when not with a command at some other place has made that his home. The minimum height for the army is now 5 feet 4 inches.

Special Session Fiscal Court.

There was a special session of the Fiscal Court held last Monday to appropriate funds for work on the new pike from Hardinsburg to Garfield. The Court ordered that the Treasurer borrow $5,000 to take care of the State's part which will be due the next March. The engineer in charge of the work reported that about three miles of the road was about ready for the metal and owing to the shortage of cars the rock could not be delivered. The dirt work he said was in fine shape for the winter and if the weather permitted the cuts and fills would be rounded up and rolled so the water will move off and leave a solid road bed.

Capt. Carrigan the engineer is a very enthusiastic road man and made a splendid talk on roads how to build them, how to get them, how to keep them up after they are built. The Capt. will stay on the work during the winter and see that work already done does not wash away.

Judge Dowell made a very important announcement. He said that he had secured the service of a County Farm Agent for Breckinridge county free of charge. This will no doubt be a very pleasing announcement to the farmers who will profit by this man's knowledge and experience in farm work.

No Frills on Her Overalls.

Logansport, Ind.—The first woman employee at the railroad shops to don overalls at her work is Miss Mary Johnson, who is employed in the oil-room. There are no frills on the overalls, as they are regular blue ones with white stripes. Miss Johnson says the overalls are more comfortable than dresses and that she will continue to wear them.

How You Should Choose Your Wife.

Dr. Frank Crane, the well known editorial writer, says in the December

American Magazine in an article called "If I were 21:"

"In choosing a wife I would insist on three qualifications:

"1. She should be healthy. It is all well enough to admire an invalid, respect and adore her, but a healthy, live man needs a healthy woman for his companion if he would save him self a thousand ills.

"2. She should have good common sense. No matter how pretty and charming a fool may be, and some of them are wonderfully winning, it does not pay to marry her. Someone has said that pretty women with no sense are like a certain cheap automobile; they are all right to run around with, you don't want to own one.

"3. She should be cheerful. A sunny, brave, bright disposition is a wife's best dowry.

"As to money, or station in life, or cleverness, or good looks, they should not enter at all into the matter. If I could find a girl, healthy, sensible and cheerful, and if I loved her, I'd marry her, if I were twenty-one."

THE REAL THING.

This dashing garment, a combination of cape and jacket, comes in seal, contrasted with wide bands of chinilla. Tab fronts and a fur belt are almost as striking as the immense roll collar.
